Cellist

Nathaniel Chaitkin de-Classifies the Classics!

Quotes about Nat

"Cellist Nat Chaitkin is that rare classical instrumentalist able to see his own world from the perspective of others. He understands what it is about the trappings of classical music that might turn non-devotees off, and has created a pathway of understanding through which to turn them on. By relating his world to the real world, he builds a bridge of understanding, in a fun and interactive program, inviting people to think about their own favorite music in ways that help them absorb and appreciate the art of music at its core. We need more Nat Chaitkins in the world to serve as ambassadors for our art form."

Thom Mariner, Executive Director
Cincinnati Chamber Orchestra

"I liked everything about these sessions."
-City Employee after one of Nat's performances

"Nat has created an excellent educational program that connects diverse audiences and popular culture to classical music. Nat modifies the program for the audience he is working with. I have seen him work his magic on various populations. His program is well-conceived, professional presented and is an exemplary program that deserves more than just local recognition."

Amy Dennison, Assistant Dean
Director, CCM Preparatory Department

"Thanks for the performance. We need more of this!"
-City Employee after one of Nat's performances

"When it comes to truly connecting community members to the art itself, there's no better example than Nat Chaitkin's Bach & Boombox. It's fun, interactive, and brings the audience into the process by challenging what they think they know about classical music in a uniquely inspiring way."
